Dear Liana

Now that I am back in the UK, I thought I should write and thank you for all the wonderful help you provided whilst I was living in Phuket.

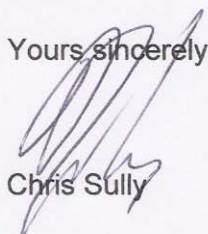

Unlike most people who buy a holiday home or retire to Thailand, I didn't just buy a finished house direct from a developer in a gated community, but chose to buy an unfinished house and complete it myself, intending to employ local firms to carry out the work for me.

Luckily, I was directed to you very early on in the process, which resulted in untold savings in time and money. Instead of being 'ripped off' at every turn by local builders and suppliers (be they Thai or European) you provided an excellent service through your network of local contacts and were always available to answer queries, make very sensible suggestions, and quickly resolve any problems that did occur.

My only regret is that I was not introduced to you right at the outset, before I had commenced any work, as that way I could have entirely avoided being 'taken for a ride'.

Once again, thank you for your help, and best wishes to you and Pascal for the future.

Yours sincerely

Chris Sully
